Quilts, Quilts Everywhere

April was the month for receiving many quilts that had been made. Vicki S. in Tennessee sent us over 20. Jane B. and her California friend, Linda made 7. I picked up a dozen or so from Georgia Sewing and Quilt-n-kaboodle is a steady stream of quilts from our kits. And Cresswind turned in ten.

In addition to those quilts, several of us met to work on the scraps that Betty G. left for us. She had so many plastic shoe boxes of strips, squares, orphan blocks and more. We spent the day sewing and planning tops and everyone took home a shoebox or two. We made a small dent but more importantly, we had fun. Thanks to Sue, Lorrie, Sharon and Chris for your help.

April was a month for new ideas too. I received two requests for kits to supply ladies forming a church group to sew during the summer. Twenty-two kits went to Janet Mc L. for her group meeting in Gwinnett and I'll make a short presentation and deliver kits at the 2nd meeting of the Lula group in June. Renee L. told me that it was easy to "sell" Quilts for Kids because several of the members already knew of our work at Northeast Georgia Medical Center.

Deborah L. reported that she delivered 27 quilts to Piedmont Athens Regional Medical Center and Dianne F. will be taking quilts for Children's Healthcare of Atlanta after May 3rd.

Remember that our workshops are open and will be held on the first Thursday and second Tuesday each month. See page 5 for dates, times and addresses. Join us and bring supplies to sew or cut kits. We look forward to seeing you there!

We celebrated our ninth birthday at both workshops with cupcakes and door prizes. I forgot to take photos because it was such a great party!

In total for both workshops, we had over 20 participants. Thanks Ladies! You make the wheels on this bus go round and round.....

I couldn't do this without your help!!!

Is this YOU?

FYI, this is what I made in April.

For twin great-nephews graduating high school in May

For my daughter and her husband's first grandchild in May. Yes, she's becoming a grandmother before being a mother.

But who's counting?
